TRIBUTE

SHRI LAL BAHADUR SHASTRI

(October 2, 1904 - January 11, 1966)

A humanitarian par excellence, an icon of simplicity and integrity, an epitome of selflessness and honesty and a superb statesman, Shri Lal Bahadur Shastri was truly a man of substance and was one of the greatest leaders India has ever produced.

A man of deep and genuine humility, he worked for the cause of the nation. Being a soul who lived in perfect purity of thought, words and deeds, his life was indeed a continuous 'yajna'. The enduring call of 'Jai Jawan Jai Kisan' which Shastriji gave to the country, continues to hold the utmost relevance even today in transforming India into a global power. A grass root worker throughout his life, Shastriji's real strength lay in his cool courage, strong determination and understanding of the human mind. .

Shastriji's life was indeed a realisation of the great philosophy contained in the small verse of Guru Nanakji which Shastriji used to keep printed on his desk and recite often.

‘नानक, नन्हें ही रहो, जैसे नन्हें दूब,
और रुख सूख जाएंगे, दूब खूब की खूब’ ।

("Be small like a small blade of grass; when other trees will wither and dry, the grass will continue to remain green, says Guru Nanak")

We pay our homage to the great leader and our guiding light, Shri Lal Bahadur Shastri Ji.

It's been a long time since I visited college last. Most of us would agree that the days we spent in college were certainly the best days of our lives. It was in college that we made our best friends, competed to excel with the tightest schedules possible and the lengthy class-room lectures, prepared for the team presentations with the spirits not less than that of a world cup cricket match, hoped for the best places in the industry, and learned our first lessons about life. Memories come flooding back when you reach each Alumni gathering and today we realize that we were 'Professionals in Making'

आप आपके संस्थान में महात्मा गांधी जी और स्व. लाल बहादुर शास्त्री जी के जीवन मूल्यों को प्रेरणास्पद तरीके से याद किया जाता है, यह देखकर आशा जागी है कि इस संस्थान के प्रशिक्षित युवा इन मूल्यों को न केवल अपने जीवन में उतारेंगे बल्कि राष्ट्र की अर्थनीति, समाज एवं शिक्षा नीति में भी लागू करेंगे।
